HOMECOMING AT CLEMSON IS WORTH THE COMING

Homecoming on any college campus is always a festive occasion. but anyone who has ever attended a homecoming at Clemson, whether an ole grad or just an interested spectator, would have to admit, if the truth were known, that Clemson has just a little edge on everyone else.

The alumni come from far and wide. There's tailgating in the parking lot. Parties are going on in every fraternity house. The ones who have remained on campus since graduation can always expect out-of-town guests.

All of the talk Friday night centers around the big game just a few hours off. From all the back slapping, glad handing and the optimism which flows through every body, everybody knows that ole visiting Siwash U. doesn't have a chance the next day against "MY TEAM."

Clemson doesn't have any locks on all of this merriment, but that's where the similarity ends.

Friday evening in Memorial Stadium, upwards to 15,000 will come to see the annual production of Tigerama, a student production jammed with skits and other forms of entertainment. Many of the skits are aimed at tomorrow's game. Others at the head coach, or college president, or just anything to make good clean fun out of the evening.

Before the stadium festivities are over, a queen is crowned and a tremendous fireworks display is viewed.

Afterwards, for most students, it is back to work, and possibly for all night. For now are the final hours to prepare the displays back up on the main campus, which for the most part poke fun at the mascot of the visiting team.

Many hours go into the planning before the first braces, chicken wire and crepe paper begin to take shape. Many of the displays are animated. Some are as tall as a three story building. The theme of each display is guarded as closely as next year's new car models.

But by sunrise Saturday morning, almost everything is ready for the judging. And before and after the game, thousands of visitors stream by to marvel at the ingenuity shown in each display.

The game, and hopefully a win for the home team, usually is the end of homecoming, unless your house guest invitation covers two nights.

Many hours are spent by various campus organizations on displays for Homecoming weekend.

Members of Alpha Phi Omega fraternity are a long way from completion of their display, but they'll meet the deadline.

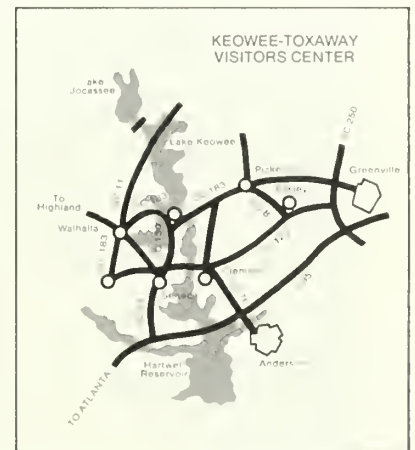

Each Friday night before the big Saturday game, thousands of people attend the student production, Tigerama, in Memorial Stadium. The girls of Delta Delta Delta are having the time of their lives presenting their skit.

While you're here for the game...

The Duke Series

After suffering through 1-4 starts in their first five games the last two years, the red hot Duke Blue Devils bring their four-game winning streak into Clemson this afternoon, looking for revenge of a year ago.

It was then that the Blue Dukes had tasted victory only once in the first half of the season. Tennessee, Virginia, Purdue and Tulane had tacked losses on Duke, but the combined difference was only 15 points in three of those games.

Clemson went into Durham and posted a 24-8 victory and the Duke score came with just 16 seconds left in the game. This was in the sixth game of the season and Coach Mike McGee was to see his team win one more and tie another in the last five games of the season.

But the Blue Devils are a completely new ball club this season. They took an opening game loss from N. C. State, who is undefeated (4-0) in conference play. But a big win over South Carolina in Columbia turned the Iron Dukes around.

Then came victories over Virginia, Purdue and Army, which give Duke a 4-1 record and riding the crest of a four-game winning streak. The last three games have been played in Wallace Wade Stadium and this will be Duke's first road game since the triumph over the Gamecocks.

Clemson, on the otherhand, will be trying to bounce back before its home crowd after taking a 41-0 punch on the chin at Maryland last Saturday. This gave the Tigers a 2-3 overall record and their second conference loss in as many starts. Duke is 1-1 in its two ACC encounters.

The series with Duke is fairly young, going back just 40 years. Even in those four decades, the series has been on a regular basis only since the formation of the ACC.

The Tigers and Blue Devils met three times (1934-35-36) when Jess Neely was at Clemson and Wallace Wade was carrying Duke to great heights.

The Blue Devils took all three of those games, and then it was 21 years before another meeting was arranged. Duke took that 1957 game 7-6 in Durham and then there was no game in 1959. Clemson won two of the next three before Duke took back-to-back wins in 1962-63, with no game in '64.

The Tigers then registered four straight wins and Duke has taken three of the last five to lead in the overall series, 10-8, but in play since the ACC was formed, Clemson holds a slim 8-7 margin.

If past games are a yardstick, the homecoming fans today can not only expect a game filled with offensive fireworks, but a physical game as well. Those have been the trademarks of Clemson-Duke games.

Portrait of a Teacher

Louis Henry

If the student hasn't learned, the teacher hasn't taught. The statement is by behavioral psychologist B. F. Skinner. It might just as easily have come from a local scholar whose dedication to that ideal has won him perhaps the highest honor any college professor can receive — being named by students as their outstanding teacher.

Professor Louis L. Henry of Clemson University's English department is the first faculty member to receive Clemson's new Alumni Master Teacher Award, an annual award which carries with it a $1,000 stipend. The recipient is selected by students, from nominations by students.

The students who picked him as the best of the lot are not bashful about telling why.

One said, "He is as eager to learn from his students as he is to teach them. He believes that education is beneficial only if it encourages students to think for themselves."

Another added: "Students taking their first course with him may expect to fill notebooks with profound pieces of disjointed information, but instead find themselves filling notebooks — and their heads — with something different: the wisdom of making associations, connecting one piece of literature to another, of tying all literature to experience."

Henry feels that "the teacher hasn't taught" if he confines himself to dealing with students solely within the four walls of a classroom.

"From my own experience as both a student and teacher, I believe the teacher does the greatest amount of good outside the classroom, by becoming a part of the student's interests and activities, by making himself available to them to talk things over outside class," he says.

His office's door is always open, and its chairs rarely empty. It is here that he offers advice, professional and personal, in addition to things like a cup of sassafras tea, homemade shortbread, and if tears seem imminent, a cup of hot coffee in one of the handmade ceramic mugs scattered about in the jungle of unusual plants he keeps.

Inside the classroom Henry insists that everyone participate in discussions and get totally involved in the learning experience. How far this can go is exemplified by a recent senior class in Southern literature.

Henry lined up some musical talent and put on an "Evening of Southern Music," complete with printed program detailing the various types of Southern music.

His students hosted a reception for the class and performers, preparing Southern foods using recipes from a Charleston cookbook. Later he invited them to his home for an authentic Southern meal. The students responded by insisting upon preparing the food — certainly an added dimension to typical college instruction.

Louis Henry doesn't duck the hard jobs that some college professors like to avoid. "He prefers to teach freshmen English rather than immerse himself in the upper level courses," a former student noted.

Henry particularly likes to teach English composition, feeling he can see more measurable results in student improvement and that students can see clearly the need for improving writing skills.

He also likes to teach slower learners, who are put into small, special sections based on their verbal scores on the College Board Exam. These classes require many after-hours conferences. No faculty member is required to teach the sections.

Henry's outside activities include a two-hour session Monday nights, supervising a tutoring program in which students get help from volunteer classmates. He also manages to find time to serve as advisor to Clemson's student newspaper, "The Tiger."

But the alumni master teacher's reputation isn't limited to students. The dean of his college says, "He comes about as near to being the indispensable man around the college as anyone gets to be."

His department head says, "I don't know what would happen to us if anything happened to him. For one thing, he handles scheduling of all English courses and classroom assignments for other classes meeting in Daniel Hall (a major classroom facility). We're talking about something in the neighborhood of 5,000 students, in the English courses alone."

Another colleague adds this: "Louis knows all his freshmen's full names by the second class, and the upperclassmen by the first class because he goes through the class yearbook, checking pictures and names, before he ever faces them."

Clemson born and reared, Henry had a flair for writing and was himself a co-editor of "The Tiger." After graduation from Clemson in 1953 he served as news editor for the Easley "Progress" and had an Army tour of duty, including service in Korea.

John Pratt, last year's student body president, summed up the man and his philosophy when he nominated Henry for the Master Teacher Award:

"He touches students' lives and makes them richer for it. Nothing could persuade him to leave the students and school to which he has devoted his life. It would be fitting for a man who does so much for students, who helps keep Clemson from being a university where students are merely processed as numbers, to receive this recognition of his talent — from the students he has taught and helped along the way."

If the student hasn't learned, the teacher hasn't taught.

In the eyes of his students and colleagues, Louis Henry has not only taught. He has taught well.

ACC Comment: Best ACC Player I Have Faced

KEN PEEPLES—Clemson University: "After being moved to guard last season I would have to say the best ACC player I've faced would be Dick Ambrose, linebacker for the University of Virginia. Dick will be a senior with the Cavaliers this fall and the experience he gained as a sophomore and junior will certainly add to his toughness. His good upper body strength enables him to meet you tough on the straight ahead plays, and his lateral speed allows him to cover the outside plays well. Dick is a great competitor and seems to give full effort every play. I'm looking forward to competing against him this season and facing one of the best in the Atlantic Coast Conference."

petitor and seems to give full effort every play. I'm looking forward to competing against him this season and facing one of the best in the Atlantic Coast Conference."

TED ELKINS—University of North Carolina: "I played against several outstanding offensive linemen in the ACC last year, but I think the best returning player is really a running back. That's Louis Carter, the fine All-Conference halfback at Maryland. He stands out in my mind because of his great quickness. He can get outside about as well as any back I've faced. But, he's also tough and can run inside. He's strong and difficult to bring down. He's even more dangerous because he can throw the ball as well."

Maryland didn't use any halfback passes against us last year, but I know that late in the season Carter was extremely effective throwing the ball. Trying to contain him is certainly going to be one of our big problems when we face the Terps this season."

MIKE BOMGARDNER—Duke University: "There are several outstanding players in the Atlantic Coast Conference, and it's really difficult to single out any one individual. But, probably the best player I have faced personally is Dick Ambrose, Virginia's outstanding linebacker. He has the size and strength to move up and stop the inside play and the speed and quickness to cover the pass and the flank from his linebacker position. Randy White, a defensive tackle at Maryland, is also one of the fine outstanding players, in the ACC. Several of my own teammates also rank high on the list. In practice, defensive tackle Dennis Turner and linebacker Keith Stoneback have given me as much trouble as anyone in the ACC."

ers, in the ACC. Several of my own teammates also rank high on the list. In practice, defensive tackle Dennis Turner and linebacker Keith Stoneback have given me as much trouble as anyone in the ACC."

STAN FRITTS—N. C. State University: "I've run into some fine defensive linemen in my two years in the ACC, but, without a doubt, one of the finest is Maryland's All Conference defensive tackle, Randy White. That phrase about football players being agile, mobile and hostile in an excellent description of him. He's strong and quick, and when he hits ball carriers, they usually stay just where he hits them. He made the Associated Press All-America team, and I can personally attest to the fact he deserved the honor. He's not the biggest I've challenged, but he definitely is one of the best in the ACC—in fact, one of the best in all of college football today."

the honor. He's not the biggest I've challenged, but he definitely is one of the best in the ACC—in fact, one of the best in all of college football today."

LOUIS CARTER—University of Maryland: "It's tough to have to pick and choose among the top defensive players in the conference. They all hit hard! But, if I have to pick one, it would be Jimmy DeRatt, North Carolina's All-Conference linebacker. Jimmy is a very aggressive player, with good quickness and he is a sure tackler. This season he will be even stronger with the additional experience to go with his poise. Everytime we play the Tar Heels and a hale opens along the line of scrimmage, I have to feel for a teammate like Alan Bloomingdale. As the fullback, Al has to block the linebacker and that becomes a rough assignment against a player like DeRatt. He is always around the ball and always ready to make a tackle."

teammate like Alan Bloomingdale. As the fullback, Al has to block the linebacker and that becomes a rough assignment against a player like DeRatt. He is always around the ball and always ready to make a tackle."

TOM MCGRAW—University of Virginia: "The most exceptional ACC opponent I have ever faced is Rick Druschel, who finished up his eligibility at N. C. State last fall. It would be impossible to define Rick without using athletic superlatives such as smart, fast, strong and fundamentally perfect. His quickness has never been surpassed by anyone I've lined up against and the use of his basic football talent is uncanny. The coaching staff at N. C. State may be responsible for his aggressive style of play, but Rick Druschel has the football finesse that makes college football so exciting. Certainly his talents did not go unnoticed since he made All-Conference and received a good deal of All-America mention."

Druschel has the football finesse that makes college football so exciting. Certainly his talents did not go unnoticed since he made All-Conference and received a good deal of All-America mention."

MIKE ARTHUR—Wake Forest University: "Randy White—without a doubt—the big defensive lineman from Maryland, is just unbelievable, and is my choice as the best player I've faced in the ACC. I played head-up on another great player, Paul Vellano, also from Maryland, who has graduated. But playing against White . . . well, I saw enough of him, both in the game and on film, to convince me he's 'one of the best college linemen' I've ever seen. He's big and strong . . . and demanding! But it's his incredible quickness that's so hard to cope with for an offensive guard like myself. His game is outside pursuit and he's just all over the field. There are several good defensive ball players coming back this year in the ACC, but White is the man who impresses me the most."

Welcome to Clemson Memorial Stadium. We're glad to have you here for another Saturday of Tiger Football and think you'll find the gridiron action among the most exciting in our conference.

There's another kind of excitement on our campus and we invite you to share that too. It has to do with fulfillment on the one hand and with anticipation on the other.

For more than 10 years we have planned our physical expansion to accommodate a student population of about 10,000 by 1975. As you can observe from a glance around you or a drive through the campus, we have several major construction projects under way. Not since the sixties, when the skyline changed dramatically, has there been as much concurrent expansion under way. This year's freshman class will be witness to more completion and initiation of construction during their educational career than any others have seen in a similar four-year period.

Just across the street from you is Fike Recreation Center, headquarters for Clemson's growing intramurals program, which is undergoing major renovation and expansion. The massive new structure at the rear of Fike will contain a swimming pool and diving tank plus other new facilities. In the middle of Johnstone Hall, visible from the loggia area, construction is about half finished on headquarters for Clemson's University Union program. Under renovation, the old Post Office building, now Mell Hall, will soon become offices for the Student Affairs staff.

On west campus an addition to the College of Architecture's Lee Hall is nearing completion. Construction began during the summer on Barre Hall, new home of the College of Forest and Recreation Resources and administrative offices for the College of Agriculture.

October 16 is groundbreaking day for Jordan Hall, a long-awaited and much needed Biological Sciences Center which will rise in the area just above Strode Tower. Nearby is the site for the College of Nursing's new $3.5 million facility which moved from dream to probable reality with the recently announced pledges of federal support totaling $2.2 million. Complete renovation and expansion of Agricultural Engineering's McAdams Hall will be started this year rounding out the planned physical expansion program.

We are equally excited by the continuing development of our academic programs. Perhaps at no other time in its history has Clemson been in a better position to achieve greatness as a university. During the next few years we anticipate significant changes in curriculum content as we are determined to produce the best possible opportunities for our students. One major innovation in a regional sense is the Southern Region Educational Board's Academic Common Market for Graduate Study. This permits a student at one university to enroll in graduate study programs at other universities in other states without paying out-of-state tuition rates. There are 17 such programs in South Carolina; 14 are at Clemson.

Welcome again to our campus. We're happy that you are with us in person today to share the football fun, and hope you'll be with us in spirit tomorrow as we continue our educational mission.

Bill McLellan, Director of Athletics

Clemson's athletic department is moving rapidly in the right direction mainly because it has a superb chief engineer in Bill McLellan, a man who became the school's third director of athletics Feb. 4, 1971.

Since the Hamer native assumed the department's top position, the Tiger sports' program has experienced a major face-lifting, and one which has caused quite a bit of excitement around the school.

Last December McLellan led a contingent into the Frank Johnstone Jervey Athletic Center as Clemson vacated the out-dated facilities of Fike Field House in place of the modern structure that is by far one of the finest in the entire country. Not only does the Center house administrative and coaches' offices, separate dressing facilities for all sports, and the ticket office, but it houses an auxiliary gym with a tartan floor and two playing courts, a dirt area for inside workouts, training and equipment rooms, steam room and sauna bath, in addition to other allied facilities necessary for an efficient athletic operation, including a weight room second to none.

Additionally, since McLellan has been Clemson's director of athletics, the Tiger track team has christened a nine-lane all-weather outdoor facility, the soccer program has developed into one of the best in the nation as the Tig booters have claimed two consecutive Atlantic Coast Conference titles and have been involved in two straight NCAA playoffs, not to mention the progress Clemson's football and basketball programs have made.

On the grid scene, for example, the old wooden seats in Clemson's Memorial Stadium have been replaced by aluminum ones which are more comfortable for the fans, dressing facilities under the stadium for game use by the Tigers and their opponents are second to no one's, and also during the McLellan era, three new practice fields, one equipped with the finest in lighting techniques are just out the door and a few steps away from the dressing areas in the Jervey Center.

Together with the Tiger baseball field, called "the finest playing surface in the South" by professional scouts and opponents as well, the beautiful 10,600-seat Littlejohn Coliseum across the street from the Jervey Center, the tennis complex that includes 14 lighted hard surface courts and a separate tennis house for office and dressing areas, and the new olympic-size swimming pool and separate diving tank which is being completed in Fike Recreation Center, McLellan has been the architect of one of the most modern and rapidly-developing college athletic programs in the nation.

But his sights have been on the entire Clemson family as well as he has been responsible for a tremendous boom in the intramural program for the student body in addition to the faculty and staff members at Tigertown. In fact, it has grown so fast that this program is being headed by three full-time staff members whereas it operated under the guidance of a part-time director just five short years ago. In making improvements for students as fast as he does for the athletic department, McLellan engineered a five-year plan, now in its second year, of mass growth for the intramural-athletic program.

Such is the saga of Bill McLellan, a loyal Clemson man who has been around Tigertown for almost 25 years, which includes his grid career under the legendary Frank Howard.

After earning a pair of football letters and a member of the 1952 Gator Bowl, McLellan graduated from Clemson in 1954 with a BS in agronomy, and with an MS in agricultural economics two years later.

And since his appointment as assistant business manager of athletics in 1958, he has worked his way, through football coaching, IPTAY, administrative and ticket duties, all the way to the top. And because he has worked so hard to put the Tigers on top, he has risen to the top as well. He's done it for one reason, his love for Clemson University.

He is married to the former Ann Rogers of Fork, and they have two daughters, Suzy, a freshman at Winthrop, and Arch Anna, and two sons, Bill and Cliff.

ARA-Slater's philosophy is a unique, systematic approach designed to achieve our most important goal: STUDENT SATISFACTION. This concept is a result of our experience with millions of students. We have the flexibility to understand your needs and the capability to satisfy them.

At Clemson, ARA demonstrates practical, new methods for providing nourishing, well-balanced meals to athletes, students and staff. Our corporate and regional specialists give ARA's dining service manager expert advice in planning menus, purchasing goods, controlling waste, utilizing labor. The support of this team effort is carried out daily in Schilleter Hall and Harcombe Commons, and at the Clemson House Buffeteria. It is our desire to serve students what they want and to accommodate them by providing this same efficient service for special events or festive holiday meals.

We're here to provide the type of service that will benefit the entire school and community. THAT'S WHAT WE THINK A DINING SERVICE IS ALL ABOUT.

At home in the evening with the entire family is a rarity for Coach Red Parker. But here in a relaxed mood in the Parker den are, left to right, daughter Vicki, son-in-law Phil Wallace, son Jim Mack, Coach Parker, wife Betty and daughter Cindy with the family pooch, Heide.

Whatever you build, build it like you'd recruit your line.

Whether you're building a house, commercial building, or a football line, you want the same qualities: reliability, versatility, strength and staying power.

At Richtex Corporation of Columbia, we build these qualities into our brick with the same enthusiasm with which we support the Clemson Tigers.

Next time you're thinking about building something, think brick. Enjoy the game, and when you think brick, think Richtex.

Red Parker

Head Football Coach

He came to Clemson in December of 1972 with one goal in mind—to put claws back on the Tiger. He installed a new game plan called “Big Red’s Machine—The Tiger Triple,” and with it saw his gridders amass over 4,000 yards offensively. And in leading his footballers to a 5-6 record he caused opponents to look with respect and sometimes even a fear towards his team.

He’s no miracle worker, but Red Parker is one top notch football coach. And the biggest thing he’s got going for himself is the simple fact that he’s one heck of a guy, and one who is respected by not only his peers, his players, and the fans, but by everyone who comes in contact with him.

With this in mind, it’s no wonder that in 21 previous years in the coaching ranks, the Smilin’ Redhead from Hampton, Ark., has never served as anything less than a head coach, and that he has posted an overall record of 148-71-6, including a collegiate won-lost mark of 73-59-2.

A football, baseball, and track letterman at Arkansas A&M, Parker graduated in 1953 and at the ripe young age of 21, assumed the grid reins at Fordyce, Ark., High School, a school that was carrying a 22-game losing streak.

However, by the time the Redhead had worked his successful formula for winning into his eight-year stay at Fordyce, his grid achievements included a 37-game winning skein and a sparkling overall record of 75-12-4.

But the high school’s loss was a definite plus on the side of his alma mater as Parker returned to Arkansas A&M in 1961 to head up the grid fortunes. And although he ended a five-year stay with a 29-19-2 mark, his last three campaigns were by far his best, as Parker’s ’63, ’64, and ’65 teams posted a fine 24-5-1 record and had claimed a pair of conference championships.

The Redhead then journeyed to the State of South Carolina and took over the football duties at The Citadel in 1966, and remained at the Charleston institution through the 1972 season.

After installing a veer offense for the Bulldogs, Parker’s Cadets became the bully of the Southern Conference, and his 1971 team, which scored 366 points and posted an 8-3 mark, had 5,030 yards of real estate to rank the school fourth in the nation in the total offense department. A seven-year stand at The Citadel by Parker gave the ’Dogs a 39-34 record—a mighty fine showing for a school with 2,000 men and one which could only promise a recruit that he would leave the school as a man.

Then came Tigertown. He made no promises prior to his first season other than issuing a warning to opponents that the Tigers would be no easy game. The ’73 footballers won three more games than pre-season prognosticators said they would, and Clemson finished a strong third in the Atlantic Coast Conference behind N. C. State and Maryland, both of whom went on to post-season bowls.

Moreover, the Tigs produced 231 points last fall, more than any other Clemson team had managed since the ’59 Blue-bonnet Bowl champs scored 285. And most of all, every single member of last year’s team had one heck of a time playing for one heck of a coach.

And to coin an old Parker phrase, “A dollar to a donut” says that the Tigers will get better and better each year that the Redhead is at the helm. That’s why folks are saying, in reference to the upcoming season, “Excitement Galore—Clemson Football ’74.”

Parker is married to the former Betty Goggans of Rison, Ark., and they have two daughters, Vicki and Cindy, and a son, Jim Maek.

CLEMSON BASKETBALL '74-'75

Tates Locke called it one year ago when he said "This is the beginning of a new era in Clemson basketball history."

It was one year ago when the Tiger boss landed 7-1 Wayne "Tree" Rollins, a youngster out of the small town of Cordele, Ga.; and it was one year ago that Clemson's big center, in only his freshman year, led the Tigers to a 14-12 record, marking the first winning season for Clemson since the 1966-67 cagers went 17-8.

Starting in all 26 varsity games, Tree paced the Tigers in shooting percentage (.543) from the floor and rebounding (12.2), and was second in scoring with a 12.4 mark. Additionally, he blocked 106 shots and was tabbed as the premier big man in the rugged Atlantic Coast Conference, the nation's toughest cage league, by Maryland All-American Len Elmore.

But planted around the Tigers' Tree are some other experienced performers, headed by co-captains Van Gregg and 6-9 forward Wayne Croft.

Gregg has led Clemson's scoring attack the past two seasons, pumping in an average of 13.8 points per game last winter, and Croft, after a mediocre sophomore year, turned in what has to be the greatest turnaround ever by an ACC performer.

Not only did Croft average 11.2 points a contest, but he was second to Tree in rebounding with an 8.0 mark, and together with Rollins gave Clemson a rugged one-two inside punch.

Returning lettermen include 6-1 Jo Jo Bethea (3.3), 6-9 Scott Conant (2.9), 6-0 Bruce Harman (3.7), 6-8 Marty Patterson (3.7), and 6-9 Charlie Rogers (5.5).

And up from last year's Cub unit are 6-8 David Brown (16.1), 6-6 Andy Butchko (11.1), 5-11 Kenny Davis (13.2), and 6-2 John Franken (15.7).

Moreover, Locke has gone out and turned in the best overall recruiting job ever in Tiger cage history, as the fifth-year coach landed two bona fide prep All-Americans, and a pair of others with credentials that would put a flutter in the hearts of most coaches.

Stan Rome brings to Tigertown a 32 point per game scoring average and the award as the nation's best athlete as selected by PARADE Magazine.

At 6-5, Rome was All-American in both football and basketball at Valdosta, Ga., High School, and if he plays in the backcourt he could team up with 6-4 Baltimore, Md., All-American Skip Wise, a whiz who was voted as the top guard in the nation by a panel of college coaches which included UCLA's John Wooden.

Darlington's 6-6 Colon Abraham scored over 28 points a game as a prepster and Williston's Jim Howell, at 6-5, averaged 27 a game, and no doubt the entire incoming frosh foursome will give the vets a run for a starting berth this season.

So the 1974-75 Tiger cage slate looms to be the most exciting year yet in Clemson basketball history.

Dear Mr. Arp
 I would like for you to send me the pictures of the offensive defensive starters, Peanut Martin instead of his replacement Fuller and O'Leary since nobody knows who is the starter. Also send me the schedule of the coming years. O'Leary really had a great game against Georgia Tech I sure hope he does the same way against the rest of the team. I really wish Peanut didn't get hurt I still think he is better than any person in the ACC. You know I think coach Parker should have been at Clemson ever since coach Howard retired.

I hope you are doing well and when daddy can get up we will write you and get tickets.

Dear Jerry Arp,
 I have been doing well in school. I am trying out for basketball. I do hope I make. Wish me luck. I hope Clemson is doing good in football. I hope they were the ACC. ACC is the toughest of all conferences I think, and I'm sure you do too. If you will please send me a picture of some of your good players. Thank you very much.

Sincerely
 Sammy Hill

Scores of letters arrive in the Clemson sports information office during the sports year from people of all ages. Some are collectors, others are from distant alumni wanting to know about the Tigers, some come from old ladies and a number from youngsters who have adopted Clemson as their team. TIGER CHEERLEADERS BRING CROWD ALIVE

Clemson cheerleaders work as hard on the sidelines keeping vocal support going for the Tigers as the team does on the field. Kneeling left to right are Jetty Young, Phyllis Corker, Martha Lynn Morris, Carol Ann Gerdon, Sheri Costa, Kathy Dayhood and head cheerleader David Vaughn. Standing are Green Johnson, Jim Spivey, Walter Spires, Keith Crawford, Chip Smith, Peter Grant and with the cannon, David Baird. Dressed as "The Tiger" is Tony Saad. (Photo by Ben Hendricks)

Ah, there's nothing like a watermelon slicing in the back yard and Coach Tom Bass and his family know how to enjoy such an occasion to the fullest. There's son McAndrew, Coach Bass, wife Susan, son Steven and daughter Laura Jane.

If you're itching to fly but don't have the scratch, the Air Force may have the answer. One of the benefits of Air Force ROTC is flying lessons. Enroll in Air Force ROTC, you're off, and the sky's no limit.

If college tuition money is a problem, Air Force ROTC may once again be the answer. If you qualify, you may find you can get one of the many college scholarships Air Force ROTC offers. And that would mean full tuition, lab and incidental fees, textbook reimbursement, and a monthly allowance of $100.00.

Not a bad deal. Flying lessons, free tuition, and $100.00 a month, tax-free to use as you like.

Sound great? Ask me how you can put it all together in Air Force ROTC. My name is Col. Duncan W. Rabey, Jr., and I'm on campus at Tillman Hall, Third Floor, Ext. 656-3254.

Put It All Together in Air Force ROTC.

IPTAY = SUCCESS

For the 10th consecutive year IPTAY funds have increased over those of the previous 12 months, and IPTAY '74 has just ended as the most successful year in the 40 years of the organization's history.

The club poured in 113 per cent of its goal from Sept. 1st, 1973 until the August 31, 1974 closing date, and the figure exceeded the previous year's amount by almost $100,000.

Moreover, in attaining the record-setting mark, every single county in South Carolina reached its respective quota, as did the State's of North Carolina and Georgia. Additionally, the other states, including foreign country contributions, reached 110 per cent of their established goal.

Colleton paced the Palmetto State counties with 189 per cent, followed by Dorchester (140), Chester (138), and a fourth-place tie among Aiken, Calhoun, and Marlboro with 137 per cent.

Next in per cent came Williamsburg (129), Dillon (127), and Cherokee and Edgefield with 123 each.

Again, Greenville County raised the largest contributions of any other county in the state with $96,700, ahead of Richland's $57,220.

The top 10 was rounded out with Pickens ($49,890), Anderson ($44,820), Spartanburg ($39,780), Greenwood ($19,610), Florence ($19,340), Lexington ($16,560), Orangeburg ($15,270), and York ($14,060).

The late Dr. Ruppert H. (Rube) Fike organized IPTAY in 1934 with one purpose in mind—to finance athletic scholarships. And since that date, not one single penny has gone for anything else other than scholarships for Clemson's 11 intercollegiate sports.

Thousands of student athletes have received an education because of IPTAY which may not have otherwise been possible.

Lewis Holmes, as president, led IPTAY '74, and thanks to his efforts, those of his officers, and of the more than 400 IPTAY representatives, our goal was met.

Tiger quarterbacks have these 28 hands to throw to this fall when Clemson takes to the air. 1-Jerry Davis, 2-Michael Gaddis, 3-Rut Livingston, 4-Richard Ibach, 5-Joey Walters, 6-Jeff Buesing, 7-Bennie Cunningham, 8-Harold Cain, 9-Rich Bollinger, 10-Brad Ashley, 11-Jim Lanzendoen, 12-Rickey Bustle, 13-Craig Brantley, 14-Mike Webber.

CENTERS

Each play starts with these players. A true snap by the center sets the Tigers in action. 1-Jay Kries, 2-Maret Cobb, 3-Ron Bowlan, 4-Wayne Neely, 5-Gregg Smith, 6-Kevin Kries.

RUNNING BACKS

These are the running backs who must handle the handoffs and the veer pitchouts from the quarterbacks. 1-Thomas Eley, 2-George Bosse, 3-Marvin Anderson, 4-Steve Jasinski, 5-Ronnie Smith, 6-Bob Coffey, 7-O. J. Tyler, 8-William Scott, 9-Tony Mathews, 10-Don Testerman, 11-Ken Callicutt, 12-Roger McCrary, 13-Leon Hope, 14-Pat Swisher, 15-Fritz Edwards.

Clemson's defensive backs take a look at Death Valley from Section GG (Green Grass), keeping in mind that there's a lot of real estate to cover when Tiger opponents start passing. 1-Harry Plexico, 2-Tony Rouse, 3-Eddie Crawford, 4-Dennis Smith, 5-Roy Eppes, 6-Rick Carter, 7-Lynn Carson, 8-Chris Clifford, 9-Dale Ulmer, 10-Malcolm Marler, 11-Brian Kier, 12-Peanut Martin, 13-Mike Cornell, 14-Jim Ness, 15-Bill Wingo, 16-Mark Lee.

These players—the defensive tackles and middle guards—are down in the trenches where the in fighting goes on. 1-Harry Lee Fulwood, 2-G. G. Galloway, 3-Willie Anderson, 4-Richard Shafer, 5-Jerome Hill, 6-Mark Strawbridge, 7-Ken Weichel, 8-Chuck Gordon, 9-George Jehlen, 10-Nelson Wallace.

WHEN IT COMES TO SEAFOOD, WE KNOW THE SCORE.

Ever since we opened our first Red Lobster restaurant, we've been dedicated to doing one thing well: serving the finest in seafood at reasonable prices in an informal, bring-the-whole-family atmosphere.

We've traditionally specialized in Florida seafood, but your nearest Red Lobster also features delicacies from nearly all the waters of the world — from Maryland to Alaska, and from Chile to South Africa.

Tiger fan or worthy opponent, you're always welcome at The Red Lobster. So plan to have dinner with us after the game. At our place, everybody wins.

The simple equation: planning + execution (know-how, teamwork, stamina, desire) = success. And, continuing success leads to Number One. Every team that gets to be Number One uses this formula to perfection. It also is the concept that has sparked the go and grow of Sandoz Colors and Chemicals. One key element in this goal calls for a largely expanded and completely modernized laboratory, warehouse, and office facilities in Charlotte to meet the growing needs of the textile industry in the Southeast.

IPTAY--

Special Recognition

For the first time in the history of Clemson IPTAY, every county in the State of South Carolina, as well as North Carolina and Georgia, went over the 100 per cent mark in their 1973-74 quota. Altogether, nearly $680,000 was raised during the year and it marked the 10th straight year an increase was seen in funds contributed to the club.

This was the third straight year that over a half million dollars had been realized by IPTAY. Every penny received by IPTAY since its beginning in 1934 has been used for athletic scholarships only.

On the following pages, we have listed those people and business organization who are being recognized by their permission for their interest and continued support of IPTAY.

Clemson

Alumni Association

of Clemson alumni exists for only two purposes: to serve Clemson University and its students and to serve Clemson alumni. It does the second by providing an organization, records, programs and publications through which the alumni may stay abreast of the progress of their University and of their own personal, civic and professional development. It does the first by sponsoring the Clemson Alumni Loyalty Fund, dedicated to furthering the student welfare and educational mission of the University.

Summed up

Clemson's overall educational capability has been enhanced by some $4.5 million since the Loyalty Fund began in 1956. By and large, this has accrued to the benefit to Clemson students. To this end, I invite every Clemson alumnus and alumna to make a gift to Clemson each year through the Loyalty Fund. The only direct beneficiary is Clemson University and her students and alumni by reflection. This year's fund ends December 31. If you have not yet made your 1974 gift, please do so now/Lawrence V. Starkey '56, National Alumni President.

Thomas G. Clemson

Associates

The National Council of the Clemson Alumni Association has recently established the Thomas Green Clemson Associates program to recognize those alumni who make significant gifts to Clemson through the Alumni Loyalty Fund over long periods of time. Each Associate of the founder of Clemson University who has been an Associate for five or more years receives a handsome personalized plaque that signifies his or her years of giving at this level in increments of five years. The bottom of the plaque provides space for five, ten, fifteen, twenty, and twenty-five year medallions. There are today over 400 Thomas Green Clemson Associates who are making Loyalty Fund gifts of $100 or more each year.

The plaque reads:
“... Name ... joins the founder of Clemson University in a dedication to higher education by making an annual gift of significance to the Clemson Alumni Loyalty Fund.” Each alumnus and alumna is invited to become a Thomas Green Clemson Associate by making the desire known to the Alumni Association.

CLEMSON ALMA MATER

Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness

Where the Tigers play;

Here the sons of dear old Clemson,

Reign supreme alway.

CHORUS

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph

And with all our might

That the Tiger's roar may echo

O'er the mountain height.

Words by A. C. Corcoran, '19

Over the years, Zenith color TV has earned a reputation for dependability and picture excellence no other color TV can match.*

And today's Zenith solid-state Chromacolor II backs up that reputation with a combination of features no other color TV can offer.

The famous Chromacolor picture tube that set a new standard of excellence in color TV. A patented Power Sentry voltage regulator that protects components. And a rugged, 100% solid-state modular chassis for long-life dependability.

It's the best way we know to make sure, at Zenith, the quality goes in before the name goes on.¹⁰

CHROMACOLOR II

*For the third straight year, a nationwide survey of independent TV service technicians has named Zenith, by more than 2 to 1 over the next best brand, as the color TV needing fewest repairs. The same survey rated Zenith as the highest-quality color TV, as the one with the best picture, and as the one service technicians would buy for themselves today. Survey details on request.
